NSDC was set up as a part of the National Skill Development Mission to fulfill the growing demands in India for skilled manpower across sectors; and to narrow the existing gap between the demand and supply of skills. The Union Finance Minister Shri P. Chidambaram announced the formation of the NSDC in his 2008-09 Budget Speech. He stated, “There is a compelling need to launch a world-class skill development program in mission-mode that will address the challenge of imparting the skills required by a growing economy. Both the structure and the leadership of the mission must be such that the program can be scaled-up quickly to cover the whole country.”

Tourism and Hospitality Skill Council

Tourism and Hospitality Skill Council (THSC) is a Not-for-Profit Organization, registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860. THSC is promoted by the Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) with an inclusive representation of the Government, the industry, industry associations and training institutes across India. Tourism and Hospitality Skill Council is formed by the industry, for the industry to tackle the low-scale skilling of large manpower forces to ensure that the industry requirements are met with the intent to bridge this ever-growing, and polarized gap. THSC is mandated to create a robust and sustainable ecosystem for skill development in the industry. It caters to all the sub sectors of the Industry, namely, Hotels, Tour Operators, Food Service Restaurants, Facilities Management and Cruise Liners.

Hotel Management and its Importance

A career in Hospitality and Hotel Management is an internationally rewarding endeavor, as well as an adventurous choice. With the Tourism Industry booming for many years now, there is a wide spectrum of career options available within this sector. We have a lot to promise, given that an individual has the potential to soar high and to expand to reach new horizons.

Facilities

Brooks School of Hotel Management strives to rise as an education institution offering refined hospitality education. In order to do so, we understand the necessity to offer facilities that enhance the learning experience of our students. Our modern infrastructure is accentuated with centralized air-conditioning throughout the campus. We further provide in-house practical labs such as the training kitchen, housekeeping training room, front office training area, restaurant and bar training center, and a bakery and confectionery training kitchen. Students are allotted individual workstations to master their practical classes. To explore and build upon the episteme of hospitality, Brooks School of Hotel Management has a well-equipped library touching upon a spectrum of areas for an in-depth understanding of the field. Needless to say, each classroom entails audio-visual equipment to supplement the pedagogies applied in class.

Placements

Since we specialize in professional programs, we understand the need to offer qualitative placement opportunities for each student. To ensure that this process is conducted smoothly to extract optimal outcomes, we have a placement team within which our full-time placement coordinator guides and trains students to acquire the best of openings within the hospitality industry. Our students are also provided with opportunities to access part-time jobs during their program time.

Our industry further exposes students to a dynamic work environment developing them into confident, decisive individuals who are more than proficient in the field. As a part of our curriculum, each program has professional grooming sessions for students to grow on an individual level as well as on a professional level enabling them to perform well in interviews and assignments to meet the international standards of hospitality.
